

Dear Friends,

Last week a hearing was held on SB 250, one of the many local bills I have sponsored this session. This legislation will allow Somerset County to issue a Class 7 micro-brewery license to allow micro-breweries to brew and sell their beer both in their brewery and at specific off-site events. SB 641, the Kathleen A. Mathias Oral Chemotherapy Improvement Act of 2014, which will extend the protections of the Kathleen A. Mathias Chemotherapy Parity Act of 2012 to include insurance policies sold through the Maryland Healthcare Exchange, and require that they provide coverage for oral chemotherapy. This bill will give people battling cancer the peace of mind that insurance companies will cover their chemotherapy treatments. SB 642, which relates to health insurance and will repeal both a 2015 termination date and a final 2014 reporting date related to the assignment of benefits and the reimbursement of non-preferred providers

I am excited to share that SB 440, which will allow Somerset County to create a service award program for members of the volunteer fire departments and EMS companies, has passed unanimously out of the Senate this week and is now awaiting passage in the House of Delegates.

Following our cancelled Eastern Shore delegation meeting on Friday, February 14th, we had a full agenda this past Friday, February 21st. Wor-Wic Community College president, Dr. Ray Hoy, and Chesapeake College president, Dr. Barbara Viniar, both visited us and spoke with us about the importance of fully funding community colleges spoke to the delegation about fully funding community colleges under the CADE formula. The CADE formula provides funding as a percentage of what the state provides to state universities. That formula used to pay 26%, but given the economic difficulties of the state, that percentage has been lowered to 19.7%; and in the current proposed state budget that funding would be lowered to 19.2%.

Secretary Summers from the Department of the Environment spoke to the delegation next. After a discussion about on-going efforts with the department, I spoke with Secretary Summers about creating round-table discussions between the department and the businesses they inspect to allow them to questions and work to correct any potential violations before a formal inspection is conducted, and to help develop a relationship between the department and the businesses. Finally, Delmarva Home Relief spoke with the delegation about their work on preventing home foreclosures and keeping people in their homes through loan modification, coordinating short sales, and foreclosure mediation.

This week, there are no bill hearings scheduled for legislation that I have introduced.
